

Clarinda Economic Development Corporation and Iowa Workforce Development Conduct Laborshed Study

The Clarinda Economic Development Corporation and Iowa Workforce Development are updating a laborshed study for the Clarinda Area. This laborshed study is used to determine factors such as the Clarinda laborshed area, availability of employment, wages and distance willing to commute to work.

Chad Wellhausen, Executive Director of the CEDC, indicates that “this study is intended to help all employees, employers and prospective businesses gain an understanding of our labor pool, education levels, wages and salaries.”

Wellhausen encourages all businesses and individuals to cooperate with the survey, resulting in accurate and up to date employment information of our area.

Any questions can be directed to Chad Wellhausen at 712-542-2160.
